BEASTIALITY STORIES

Once we gave Buddy away to my aunt, we didn't have a dog at home anymore. That didn't stop me from getting my kicks though. My sister is 10 years older than me and she got married when I was around 16. Her husband had a wonderful dog named Barney who was a black and tan German Shepherd/St. Bernard mix. He was about the size of a shepherd, with all the goofy enthusiasm of a young energetic dog not long out of puppyhood. I spent a lot of time after school at my sister's house since she lived only a couple streets over from me and I didn't have much else to do once homework was done.

Barney was a happy, horny dog who always followed me around sticking his nose in my crotch like most dogs tend to do, but there wasn't an opportunity to see if he'd lick me because there was always someone else around. But, when my sister and her husband decided to go on vacation for a couple weeks, they needed someone to look after Barney while they were gone. Of course I immediately volunteered to go over to their house every day while they were gone to make sure he got fed and played with so he wouldn't be lonely. They even offered to pay me to look after him, so who could say no to that?!

The day came when they finally left on vacation and I was twitchy and distracted all day because I knew I was going to rush over to their house after school to see if I could get Barney to lick me. I'd even gone into the girls' bathroom to try to get some relief by rubbing my pussy, but there were too many girls going in and out and I couldn't concentrate.

When school finally let out I practically ran to my sister's house, not even stopping at home first. I threw my books on the couch and headed for the back door. I let Barney in and he was just one big ball of enthusiasm. His tail was wagging, his tongue hanging out and he was so excited to see me he jumped up and put his paws on my chest as he tried to lick my face. Of course, I had other plans for that tongue, so I headed back into the living room with Barney right beside me, crowding close and almost tripping me. I flopped down on the couch and immediately wiggled out of my panties. Barney was trying to get up on the couch with me but I scooted down and spread my legs, guiding him in between them as I lifted my skirt.

Now, Barney wasn't the smartest dog in the world, but what he lacked in brains, he more than made up for in enthusiasm. All I had to do was pat my pussy mound a couple times to get his attention and he dove right in. His tongue was much bigger and rougher than Buddy's had been and it felt amazing scraping up and down my slit as he lapped at me. In the past I'd had to be as quiet as possible when I was getting licked because my parents' bedroom was close to mine, but now I was alone with just me and the dog and I could moan as loud as I wanted and even give verbal instructions.

"Eat me, Barney! Lick that wet pussy!" I encouraged him as I reached down and pried my cunt lips apart so he'd have better access. "Get that tongue in deep!"

I have no idea if he actually understood anything that I was saying, but his tail wagged harder and he seemed to double his effort to get his tongue inside my hole. My head was thrashing back and forth and my hips bucking wildly while I hunched at his face, rubbing my clit on tip of his snout. I spread my legs as wide as they would go and let go of my pussy lips so I could unbutton my blouse and pop my tits out of my bra. I pinched my nipples hard, which just fed the fire between my legs and made me cream more. Barney very intently dug his tongue in to lick away as much of my juice as he could get. His tongue and nose battered my clit and I knew I couldn't last much longer before I had to cum.

“Ungh, ungh, ungh,” I grunted as the licking went on and on and I pinched my nipples as hard as I could. “Gonna cum, gonna cum...cummmmmmming!!!”

I thrashed around wildly as I came so hard all over Barney’s doggy tongue I almost passed out. Maybe I did pass out for a few seconds, because the next thing I knew, Barney was lunging up to put his front paws on either side of me on the couch. He was panting hard with his tongue hanging out and drool dripping on my tits as he started arching his back and humping his hips. He’d gotten so excited eating me out he now wanted to fuck me!

I looked down and saw his big red cock was all the way out of its sheath, waving around between his legs as he tried to get into a position where he could stuff it in my tiny hole. I was a little scared because I’d never been fucked before and his cock looked HUGE to me. I just wasn’t ready to let him go that far yet, but he’d just made me cum so good I wanted to help him out. I reached down and wrapped my fist around his cock and he immediately started jerking his hips fast and furious. His cock was incredibly hot and slippery with pre-cum oozing everywhere making it very easy for him to fuck my hand. I felt the knot at the base hit the side of my fist with every thrust he made and I have to admit it was exciting to jerk him off like that. I even rubbed the tip of his cock up and down my pussy lips a few times just to see what it would feel like. It was amazing!

Barney didn’t last all that long, maybe a dozen or so fast thrusts before he was shooting what looked like gallons of cum all over my pussy, my skirt and some even shot up on my stomach. I was drenched in dog cum! Once Barney had shot his load, he jumped down and wandered away to lick himself clean. I went and took a shower, then plopped back down on the couch to take a nap. I was exhausted, but glad that it was only the first day of taking care of Barney while my sister and her husband were away. I had two more weeks worth of private fun time and I planned to take full advantage of it!

More tales of my fun with Barney will be coming as soon as I have time to write them. I hope this one had you cumming hard ☐
