BEASTIALITY STORIES

"Look, mommy, a gorilla!" the little girl screamed. Kate thought, for the hundredth time, that seemed a very stupid thing to say. She had been working at the zoo for over 5 years and all children seemed to say the same thing. She stopped looking out the window from the cage and went to the back. The intercom was located back there, and she picked it up.

"Attention, please. The zoo is closing now for the day. Please exit as soon as possible, as the animals want to get some sleep." She heard a small burst of laughter from outside, as she always did. As she put the mike down, Steve came in.

"Hey, you going out with everyone else tonight?" He asked.

"Oh, I don't think so. Mr. Myers said there were some problems in Sarki's room, and he wanted me to check it out."

"Shit. I wouldn't go in there. That's one big mean ape!." He said. Thinking how pretty Kate was and hoping that she would go out with him that evening.

"Well, he seems to like me. But anyway, I guess the lights are acting up, and Mr. Myers wanted me to take a look at them."

He grinned. "Well, don't let me keep you maybe sometime next week?" He asked. He was still staring at her perfect body, wishing that things were otherwise.

"Sure, next week it is." She smiled back at him. He waved goodbye, and Kate got back to her work.

After taking her regular hour or two to get everything back in order, she went to her locker in the ladies' room to get out of her zoo uniform. After getting it all off, she remembered she had to fix those lights, but since the Zoo was closed, she didn't think anyone would mind if she did it in shorts and a t-shirt. She left her junk in the bathroom and headed for the gorilla house. After arriving there, she entered Sarki's cage area, wondering why Mr. Myers seemed to think she was a mechanic or an electrician.

Sarki was a huge mountain gorilla and usually not very amicable. But he had seemed to take to Kate immediately, usually hanging over her shoulder or something whenever she was in his cage. Today was no exception, as she climbed up toward the ceiling to get at the lights. There was a large platform near the roof, and she climbed up to that to inspect the lights better.

Sarki pulled his bulk right up next to her, but there was plenty of room up there. She stood up and craned her neck, trying to look straight up while keeping her balance. Suddenly, she felt a large hand on her ass, slowly stroking it. She turned around quickly and found Sarki staring at her as his hand caressed her. She stood frozen, afraid that he might push her off the ledge or something. But what he did was bring his other hand up and begin to feel her breasts through her t-shirt.

Kate slowly reached out to push Sarki's hand away from her breast, standing very still. She gripped his thumb and twisted his hand back away from her. The animal became mad at this action and shoved Kate roughly back. She fell over, trying to stop her forward motion, not wanting to fall over the edge of the platform. Kate landed hard on her stomach and had the wind knocked out. She lay there for a moment struggling for breath, then to her shock, she felt her shorts being ripped from her body. Sarki just tore the material apart like it was paper. Kate was frozen with fear by the beast's exhibition of sheer strength. She wanted nothing more than to get out of this situation as fast as she could.

Kate knew that her life was in danger, she couldn't understand why Sarki was acting so aggressively toward her, but she knew that she was all alone at the zoo and had better do something quickly. As Kate began to recover from the forceful push that she had received from the gorilla, she started to get up on her hands and knees to climb down as fast as she could. But this was not what happened.

With shocking roughness, the beast took one of his fingers stabbed Kate from behind, right into her now exposed hole. His finger, though not as long as a man's penis, was just as wide, and she began to squirm on it. His other hand fell from her breasts and curled around her ass, pulling her closer. He brought his face close to her and stared at her with great interest. His hand was working her over. The beast was becoming aroused by Kate's body.

She screamed, flailing at the ape's chest, as she twisted and turned, trying to escape from his grasp. But no matter what she did, she couldn't break his grip on her. He kept up his fingering of her pussy, and she kept up her struggles to get away.

The ape finally grew tired of fighting with the human female and smacked her across the face knocking Kate into shocked submission. She was stunned and had temporarily lost her wits. The colossal ape was totally aroused by now, and he flipped Kate back over on her stomach and moved downward, further, until his now erect huge cock was staring right at her.

All thoughts of anything else quickly flew away with the sight of it, and she immediately knew what was going to happen to her, she couldn't believe it, she had never even thought that something like this could happen. But the great ape just started poking her face with his huge erect cock, trying to enter her mouth, finally after several attempts, and another smack to the head he shoved the tip of his cock between her lips and made Kate take it in her mouth, taking great pleasure from this, he began to force it in farther in obvious excitement.

His cock grew to an unbelievable size that she could barely keep in her mouth. She could taste the few drops of his sexual fluids that were seeping out of his now rock-hard cock.

After forcing her face against his crotch for a few minutes, he pulled away, then pushed Kate down flat on the platform and spread her legs. With his finger, he stabbed again into her pussy, which had become wet from the fear she felt, and something else, was it excitement, was it the excitement of the unknown, of something that had never happened before? She couldn't tell... didn't seem to care anymore!

He withdrew his finger and pressed his face against her chest, his tongue coming out and licking her nipples. He moved downward and slurped at her wet hole. She groaned. What was happening to her? A beast, a filthy animal, was raping her, yet she felt all the sensations she would with a human man. Sarki began to lick her pussy with genuine enthusiasm, making Kate moan louder and louder. Just as she was about to orgasm, he roughly pushed her away.

She landed on her stomach again, and as she began to pick herself up, confused, she felt a huge cock fill her box. Sarki's breath came in rough gasps as he shoved his tool deeper and deeper into her. She began to groan even louder, and his pace quickened. After a few minutes of this, Kate couldn't hold back any longer. Her cunt exploded in a series of orgasms around his spike.

She bucked her hips upwards against his vast body, and with her contractions came a jerking from deep within him, and after a second or two, she could feel his Cum filling her. She couldn't believe it. He just kept pumping sperm into her vagina, in quantities that began to squirt from between the seal of his cock, and her cunt lips. She looked down under her stomach and saw Sarki's sperm flowing down the inside of her thighs. He slowly stopped his rammings and allowed her to climb out from under him. She realized that he had supported himself on his knuckles the entire time to avoid crushing her.

Kate sat there looking at the ape, her knees pulled up, her head resting on her arms. So many thoughts were racing through her mind. She really could tell no one about this. There wasn't anything she could do. No one would believe her anyway.

Kate slowly and a little painfully climbed down from the platform. She went to the locker room and dressed. As she was leaving, she stopped at the front of Sarki's cage and looked in. The huge animal dropped down from the platform and stood right up against the bars. Without consciously thinking about it, Kate slipped her hand down to his limp dick and gave it a small squeeze, a promise that she would work late again soon. And it looked like she wasn't going out with Steve and her co-workers next week after all!
