BEASTIALITY STORIES

(c) 2010 by knottygirlkayla

Author Note: Lauren is a friend of mine who has shared many of her adventures with me. She was inspired by some of the stories she read here and decided she wanted me to write about her many escapades. While a few details have been changed, for all intents and purposes, the stories I write about her are true. If the feedback is good we hope to share more with you.

Lauren was staying at her dad's house for the weekend and she was looking forward to spending some time laying out in the back yard, working on her tan.

The back yard, while not completely private, offered enough cover from the neighbors that Lauren felt comfortable going topless, as anyone that could see the backyard would have been a fair distance away, and could not have seen much, thought it probably wouldn't have bothered her if anyone could.

Lauren walked towards the lounge chair, her towel draped over her shoulder, carrying her drink and a small bag with her tanning supplies. She spread her towel on the chair, and placed the bag and drink on the small table next to the lounge chair. Then she reached behind her neck and with a gentle tug of the small string, the top of her bikini fell down.

Another tug at the string behind her back and the white top fell to the ground at her feet.

She sat down on chair and reached into her bag. She retrieved a bottle of spray on tanning lotion and began spraying herself all over, stopping only to rub the lotion all over her creamy skin. After thoroughly covering her arms and legs, she began spraying the lotion on her taut stomach and her firm breasts. Once satisfied with the coverage, she reclined in the lounge chair, and began to enjoy the warming rays on her skin.

She turned her iPod on and was soon relaxing as the music began to play. It didn't take before her mind began to wonder and soon she was daydreaming about some of her past sexual escapades, and fantasizing about those that have yet to happen. Soon a damp spot began to appear on the small triangle of fabric that barely concealed the wet folds between her legs.

Lauren, knowing how her tanning sessions typically ended, had come prepared, and soon she was leaning over and pulling a vibrator from her bag. She turned the device on and slid it beneath the damp fabric and began to tease herself with the buzzing toy. Though she couldn't hear it over the sound of Britney singing in her ear, the hoop in her pierced clit was rattling away, under the pressure of the toy.

She started by gently rubbing the vibe over her already engorged clit. Each time they met, a shock ran through her body, and her juices began to flow even faster. It wasn't long before her juices were dripping onto the chair. She would occasionally plunge the toy deep into her folds, only to immediately retract it and apply it to her aching clit again.

A moan escaped her lips.

She was nearing an orgasm and she was doing her best to delay it, in order to heighten her arousal. She would occasionally break stride with the toy, and bring it to her lips. She plunged it into her eager mouth, relishing the taste of her creamy juices, while the smell of her sex filled the air.

She couldn't hold off any longer and soon wave after wave hit her as her first orgasm rocked her body. She pulled the damp fabric aside and thrust the big toy deep into her spasming hole. She began to moan loader and louder as another orgasm began to start.

Her juices were flowing freely now and she was completely lost in the moment.

After catching her breath, she pulled the toy from her still quivering pussy and, and placed it on the table next to her. She began to relax and drift off to sleep, enjoying the combined warmth of the sun and her orgasm.

What Lauren didn't realize was that while the fence partially sheltered her from the view of the neighbors, it didn't prevent her musky scent from wafting over to the very sensitive nose of her neighbor's Husky, Jax.

Jax's ears perked up the moment he detected the delightful odor. He hopped to his feet, and eagerly trotted off his porch, hoping to find the source of the intoxicating odor. His nose was as keen as ever, and had him pointed in the direction of his neighbor's patio, and he soon discovered the nearly naked coed, with her legs spread on the chair in front of him.

He approached the girl and was soon drawn to the table where the vibrator was resting. He started licking the creamy juices still remaining on the toy, and in doing so, knocked over the drink that Lauren had brought out with her. The noise startled the girl and she sat up to see what the disturbance was. She recognized Jax from next door, so she wasn't alarmed, but she didn't want him chewing on her favorite vibrator so she tried to push him away.

Jax responded by licking Lauren's face. He liked the coconut scented lotion and began licking her neck and chest too. His warm tongue felt good and she was in no shape to resist the dogs advances.

After a few moments Jax picked up the odor of Lauren's sopping pussy and worked his way around the chair and pushed his snout up against the wet triangle of fabric between her legs. He was determined and Lauren couldn't have stopped him if she wanted to, Fortunately she hadn't had the pleasure of mating with a dog in quite a while, so she had no intention of trying to stop him.

Lauren tugged on the strings that held her bikini in place and pulled the garment away, allowing the huge beast unblocked access to her creamy pussy. She rubbed her clit and pulled on her clit ring as Jax explored her inner depths with his enormous tongue. She was starting to cum again already and he'd barely started.

She began moaning out loud as her thighs began to quiver again. She looked down and saw the animal's huge cock begin to extend below his legs. She started moaning even louder as another orgasm began washing over her sweaty body. She couldn't wait any longer. She flipped over on the cushioned lounge chair and got on all fours. She coaxed Jax up onto the chair, and mounted her from behind and wrapped his powerful front legs around her waist. He thrust his haunches forward and his huge cock pressed against Lauren's clit causing her to scream out in pleasure. He pulled back, then thrust forward again, this time hitting his mark and burying his scalding hot cock deep in her hungry pussy.

Once his dick was impaling Lauren, he began thrusting in and out of her dripping pussy. She could feel the huge mass of muscle at the base of his dick pushing at the entrance of her pussy. She had seen his knot before he mounted her and guessed it was the size of a softball, and it was now stretching her pussy.

Jax continued to push his cock deeper and deeper into Lauren's cunt. Soon the entire not was buried inside and they were locked together. He was still thrusting and she could feel the pointed tip of his cock pushing at the entrance to her cervix. His hot precum was squirting inside her, stretching her pussy even more.

Jax continued to thrust into the beautiful girl underneath him. Her moans encouraged him as he neared his own orgasm. Lauren was on the brink of yet another orgasm herself, and as she began to quiver yet again, she clamped down on his huge cock.

The sensation was too much for Jax and he began to unload all of his creamy hot seed into Lauren's accommodating womb. Rope after rope of the dog's cum was squirting past her cervix.

Lauren had never been so full. Jax had never felt so good. But he was a restless beast and no sooner had the last shivers run through Lauren's body, Jax withdrew his cock and jumped off the chair. Lauren was still on her knees, chest against the chair, her pussy gaping open lewdly. A mixture of their cum was running down her thighs. Jax made an attempt to lick some of it up, but only got a portion of it before he galloped off to his own house.

Lauren was too exhausted to move. She stayed there with her ass up in the air and cum running down her legs for several minutes before she had the strength to collect herself. By the time she did a large puddle of their juices had collected on the chair cushion. She was still in a daze though and didn't take notice. Instead, she gathered her suit and towel and other tanning items and went inside to take a shower. But she already knew that's she'd be sure to find time to come out and tan again tomorrow.

The End
