BEASTIALITY STORIES

A story I wrote many years ago and one of my very first ones, and actually in accordance to my life's discoveries of such things the first encounter of it all.

While this happened in my far younger years, It was for sure an occurrence that happened when the following subjects were adults.

Red as we called her was just that fiery redheaded as could be with that red haired girl freckled look of pure Country Girl! And was just that as well...

Their ranch adjoined ours and so being way out in the sticks per say, Red and I were good friends throughout high school and certainly after graduating just that year prior...

Well I'd gone off and started my career in the oilfield and had just returned after a stint of 45 on and getting much needed 7 off.

So upon returning to the ranch and spend a few days fishing and just relaxing and enjoying some good outdoor fun; I got a call from "Red" telling me she was very happy I was back and wanted to stop by and have a beer or two with me... (drinking age was 18 then)

Well I grabbed up a six pack and told Mom and Dad I was off to visit Red a bit and would return later on.

I hopped into my old pickup and drove to their ranch house and found her Mom and Dad were gone...

Knocking on the door several times and getting no response from anyone I figured she was probably in the barn since she and her family like ours raised their own chicken;beef;pork and the in season garden every year as well...

As I meandored about looking for her in the barn and then around it; Suddenly I heard sounds of what I had absolutely no idea of at all...

So following the sounds I could tell it was sure as hell "Reds" voice and some strange gruntal sound as well.

Well it hit me that what I was hearing was "Reds loud pleas" and the other was no damn doubt that of a hog!

Figuring she'd gotten in the pen somehow and was getting attacked by it; I ran as fast as i could then and was confronted with a site I'll never forget!

Because they weren't in the damn pen at all!! But she was laying on a riding blanket thrown over a big bail of hay and their huge boar was absolutely plowing it to her from hell and back!!

I was so traumatized by it first of all and secondly this "sudden" feeling came over me that I damn well was loving what I was seeing!!

And as instincts took over I rushed to them and tried to get him off her!!

Well that certainly didn't work at all and only made him plow it to her even harder!! As she was absolutely now in a full pledged womanly orgasm from hell.

As I could see his dick screwing itself into her as much as it could and then saw her absolutely shake all over and was seemingly trying to almost get sick I guess...

Then her face turned red as hell and she screamed out as I saw the huge bore then begin to tremble all over and his huge balls began to jerk and she was laying under him taking everything he wanted to give her and more...

And her cries of "oh oh oh" were in perfect timing to his balls jerking about as I realized he was absolutely coming inside her!!

She had thrown her head to my side of view and her eyes were filled of being in some far off land and that passionate glaze of please showed from hell in them!!

With her mouth wide open and her cries of continual "oh oh oh" still coming from her as he was now just laying on top of her and just short jabbing his boar cock at her.

I could see beyond a doubt that whatever he was doing inside her pussy was for sure making her belly swell out!!

As she lay there in this out of this world fashion her body shuddering and shivering all over!!

Her belly becoming ever more increasingly swollen out and her cries changing from "oh oh oh" to now saying "no mmmore" "Oh no more" "no plllllleeeeeease" as she then seemed to absolutely all but seemingly pass out from it all; Her body limp and weak and shuddering all over as the huge boar was filling her with cum no man could ever match!!

I wanted to run away and get the hell out of there; But my feet would not move!!

As if frozen in my tracks and made to watch this bestial spectacle I sure as hell knew "Red" didn't want me to even see at all!!!

And from the looks of her belly she was damn sure bloated as hell from him cuming in her what must have felt like her insides would explode from the enormity of his cum.

She now was just laying there limply moaning out uhhhhnnnnn uhnnnnnn in far to gone to care language for sure!!

The boar hog was now grunting wildly and his tongue was hanging out like he himself was in some wild unbelievable pleasurable state himself.

Well I finally beat it to hell out of there and really never mentioned a single word to "Red" about that incident; Though that evening when she finally did make it over even with her wearing a big t shirt there was absolutely no doubt that her belly was still swollen out from hell...

And now knowing the all of a woman and boar together I now realize that it was because as the anatomy of things; as this goes that a boar hog cums and then it seals itself inside a woman's womb!

I know for sure poor "Red" was awfully distraught and groaned many times over as we were talking and drinking on the front porch swing.

So someday I hope to run into her again and at long last tell her about what I had seen that fateful day In some ways I wish to heck I had not even went over!

Yet in others damn glad I did.
