BEASTIALITY STORIES

When I was 18 years old, I used to visit my brother who lived in Florida with my mother. He had a small brown poodle. We had a pool in the backyard, and one day, I was sunbathing alone. I was sitting in a chair, and the dog came up to me and put his head between my legs, just trying to get my attention to play. I was pretty much ignoring him, spread out, soaking in the Florida sun. My legs were spread, and he came up between them and started licking me.

I was very horny and his licking started to arouse me. I was sitting in a position where I could not be seen directly from the house, and nobody was home. He was licking right at the edge of my bathing trunks, so I pulled them back a little to see if he would lick up closer to my crotch, which he did. By this time my dick was extremely hard and my precum was flowing.

I finally exposed my penis and to my delight he started to lick it immediately. I pushed my penis down toward him so that he was now licking on the head. As soon as he started tasting the precum, he focused his tongue right on the tip of my penis and started licking faster. He was getting me very close to orgasm, which didn't take much back then! I didn't really want to cum at the pool, so I walked to my room in the guesthouse, which was in the back yard.

I remember being so turned on that I was weak-kneed and my stomach was full of butterflies. The smells were incredible too — a mixture of coconut scents from the lotion and the scent of body sweat because I had been out in the sun for quite some time. I locked the door and stripped naked. I took him up on the bed with me and he continued to lick on me as I stroked my cock. I also started massaging his underside as he licked me and his small penis came out.

It distracted him from his licking, so I would play with him some, then leave him alone for a minute or two while he licked me. I held his head and moved his mouth up and down my shaft. I just put him wherever I wanted him, and he was happy to keep licking. When my precum really started flowing again he started licking the tip of my dick vigorously.

Soon I was shooting streams of hot cum directly in his mouth, and he worked hard to swallow every drop. I shot sperm all over my stomach and chest and he lapped it up as it squirt from the head of my penis. What he did not lick up directly from the streams, he later licked from my body until not a drop of sperm was left on me.

I was still very sexually charged from the experience, and I took him and rolled him onto his back and started stroking his little cock again. His red penis came out and grew to about 2 inches long. I gently rubbed his tiny balls with the base of my hand and stroked him by moving the skin surrounding his penis up and down his shaft. His precum started to soak his tummy right around his dick and he was squirming as I continued to stroke him.

He came while I stroked him, and I was surprised that his cum was very thick and there was a great deal of it, given his small size. I let him go after he orgasm and he went over to a corner and licked on his penis for a minute or so.

I had several more experiences with him on that trip and another visit about a year later.
